1 The match, from the two birth stars

Worth noting

Whatever the totals, this match is not enough to go ahead: Dina, one of the two that come first, does not agree. For the record: 6.75 of ten on the southern count, 26.5 of thirty-six on the northern.

Good news

On the thirty-six guna count this is a good match for marriage. It scores 26.5 out of 36, comfortably above the eighteen families traditionally ask for before a marriage.

The match for this marriage is counted between the bride's star, Hasta, and the groom's, Swati. (Why: the bride's Moon sign is Kanya (Virgo) and the groom's is Tula (Libra).)

|---------------|------------------------------------|----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Dina          | Health and longevity               | Does not agree | This porutham is about health and stamina in the marriage, and it does not agree here. (Why: the count between the two stars falls outside the favourable range.)                                                     |
| Gana          | Temperament and disposition        | Agrees         | Husband and wife share one temperament: two people who will not have to work to understand each other. (Why: both stars are in the same gana, the temperament group.)                                                 |
| Mahendra      | Progeny and prosperity             | Does not agree | This porutham looks at children and the family's prosperity, and it does not agree here.                                                                                                                              |
| Stree Deergha | The wife's wellbeing and long life | Does not agree | This porutham looks at the bride's wellbeing in the marriage, and it does not agree here. (Why: counting from the bride's star, the groom's comes within the first seven; this porutham asks for more than thirteen.) |

| Porutham      | Signifies                                        | Verdict                   | What it means                                                                                                                                                             |
|---------------|--------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Yoni          | Physical compatibility                           | Agrees                    | The strongest agreement here: a sign of natural physical understanding between husband and wife. (Why: both stars share the same animal symbol.)                          |
| Rasi          | Family harmony and progeny                       | Does not agree, set aside | This does not hold for family harmony. (Why: counting from the bride's Moon sign, the groom's is the 2nd, 4th, 5th or 12th.)                                              |
| Rasyadhipathi | Mutual understanding                             | Agrees                    | This goes with mutual understanding in the marriage. (Why: on the porutham list, the lords of the two Moon signs are friends to each other.)                              |
| Vasya         | Mutual attraction                                | Does not agree            | This counts for mutual attraction, and it does not agree here. On its own it should not decide the marriage. (Why: in the vasya table neither Moon sign draws the other.) |
| Rajju         | Longevity of the marriage                        | Does not agree, set aside | This porutham, for the length of the marriage, does not agree. (Why: both stars fall in Kanta rajju, the neck.)                                                           |
| Vedha         | Freedom from affliction between husband and wife | Agrees                    | The two stars do not obstruct each other, so this agrees for the marriage. (Why: the two stars are not one of the pairs that obstruct each other.)                        |

4 of the ten agree in full: Gana, Yoni, Rasyadhipathi, Vedha. 2 are set aside by an exception: Rasi, Rajju. 4 do not agree: Dina, Mahendra, Stree Deergha, Vasya. Five of the ten are the chief ones — Dina, Gana, Yoni, Rasi, Rajju — and 2 of those five agree in full here. Check Dina and Rajju before the rest: they come first in importance, and here neither agrees in full. Your family does not need all ten to agree; families ask for at least 5 in full. This match has 4 in full. 2 faults are set aside, and a fault set aside does not count against the 5, so the match reaches 6.

👍 Present, cancelled

The fault here is in Rasi, Rajju. For this marriage an exception sets it aside, and your astrologer decides whether to accept it. (Why: Budha (Mercury) and Shukra (Venus), the lords of the two Moon signs, are friends on the porutham list.)

So those 2 are not counted against the five families ask for. Families differ most over Rajju: some set its fault aside for a marriage like this, and some never do.

In North India, families match a marriage by the eight below, which weigh different things from the ten above. Do not expect the two totals to agree. (Why: these eight are the kootas of the northern system.)

| Koota                                       | Points  | Status                 | What it means                                                                                              |
|---------------------------------------------|---------|------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Varna — the order of the two signs          | 0 / 1   | Does not agree         | The bride's group stands above the groom's, the reverse of the order wanted here, so it scores nothing.    |
| Vashya — mutual influence                   | 2 / 2   | Agrees                 | Both moon signs fall in the same group, which goes with mutual influence between husband and wife.         |
| Tara — wellbeing                            | 1.5 / 3 | Agrees in part         | The count is favourable one way and not the other, so this scores in part for wellbeing in the marriage.   |
| Yoni — physical compatibility               | 4 / 4   | Agrees                 | Both stars share one animal symbol: the strongest score for physical compatibility in a marriage.          |
| Graha Maitri — friendship of the sign lords | 5 / 5   | Agrees                 | The rulers of the two moon signs are natural friends, which goes with friendship between husband and wife. |
| Gana — disposition                          | 6 / 6   | Agrees                 | Husband and wife share one temperament, which earns full marks here.                                       |
| Bhakoot — the pairing of the moon signs     | 0 / 7   | Cancelled by exception | The distance between the two moon signs is one counted against a marriage, so this scores nothing.         |

| Koota               | Points | Status | What it means                                                                    |
|---------------------|--------|--------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Nadi — constitution | 8 / 8  | Agrees | Husband and wife have different constitutions, which is what this one looks for. |

✓ Present, cancelled

Bhakoot dosha is raised for this marriage and then cleared. On the porutham list, the two moon-sign rulers are friends, which clears this dosha for the marriage. A dosha the tradition itself cancels is not a reason to stop the marriage. Show your own astrologer the exception named here, so they can check it.

Your family needs only the two stars for the ten poruthams and the thirty-six points. For the rest, you need both birth dates, times and places. They show whether either side carries Mars dosham, how each chart reads for married life, and when each marriage is due. Ask for the matching report to read all of that from both charts.

If this proposal does not go ahead, these are the stars that clear both lines with each side's star.

| Star                   | Stars that clear both lines                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |

2 The words and checks behind this reading

The words used above, defined — so you can check the reading against them, or hand these pages to the astrologer your family asks.

The ten poruthams read here are the southern ten, in their classical order: Dina, Gana, Mahendra, Stree Deergha, Yoni, Rasi, Rasyadhipathi, Vasya, Rajju and Vedha. Other lists of ten are in circulation — some put Nadi and a tree match, Vriksha, in place of Stree Deergha and Vasya, and some count twelve — so before comparing two counts, check that both were taken over the same ten. Not all ten have to agree. The rule asks for at least five, names Dina, Gana, Yoni, Rasi and Rajju as the five chief ones, and puts Dina and Rajju first among those.

Rajju sorts the twenty-seven birth stars into five groups named for parts of the body, from the foot upward: Pada, the foot; Kati, the hip and thigh (also called Ooru); Nabhi, the navel; Kanta, the neck; and Siro, the head. Rajju agrees when the two birth stars fall in different groups. When they share one, the higher the group sits on the body, the more weight the fault is given, the head most of all. Each person's own group is named with their birth star earlier in this document.

An exemption, a vilakku, is a rule that sets a fault aside. Two kinds are applied here, only classical ones. In the northern reckoning, the exceptions that clear Nadi and Bhakoot dosham, such as the same star in different padas, or one planet ruling both Moon signs. In the southern ten, the classical vilakku: a fault in Rajju, Vedha, Gana or Rasi is set aside when one graha rules both Moon signs, when the two rulers are friends, or when the two Moon signs face each other. Wherever one applies, it is named above with its rule. Other exemptions pass from family to family — that people born under certain stars need no matching at all, for instance — and none of those is applied, because none of them is a classical rule.

Which of these decides a marriage depends on where the family comes from. Tamil and most South Indian families count the ten poruthams and treat a failed Rajju as the hardest to pass over. Most North Indian families add up the thirty-six gunas, look for eighteen — a convention, not a measurement — and treat Nadi and Bhakoot as the blockers. The Sevvai dosham check differs by region too: by one widely published account, northern lists leave out Mars in the second house and southern lists leave out Mars in the first, so the same chart can be called manglik in Delhi and clear in Chennai. The check in this document counts both houses, which is why it raises more often than either list alone. Both matching systems are printed for the same reason: when the two families come from different regions, each side asks its own question, and both answers are here.
